VITAL STATISTICS.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL TO THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY,

TRANSMITTING ABSTRACTS OF

MARRIAGES, BIRTHS, AND DEATHS,

FOR THE YEAR 1879 :

WITH PREFATORY REPORT.

Sir,

Registrar General's Department, Sydney, 17 May, 1880.

I have the honor to forward herewith the returns of Marriages, Births, and Deaths, which have been registered in the Colony during the year 1879.

The estimated population of the Colony on the 31st December shows a total of 734,282 persons, ^{Population.} giving an increase of 40,539 souls, or 5·84 per cent. on the estimated population for the previous year. Males are estimated at 409,665, and females at 324,617, or 55·79 per cent. and 44·21 per cent. respectively, so that males were 11·58 per cent. in excess of females. These figures show a much larger increase to our population than has been recorded for many years past. 26

The following figures give an estimate of the population for the half-years ending 30th June and 31st December respectively :—

HALF-YEAR ending 30th June, 1879.

Births.....	12,822	Deaths	5,420
Arrivals by sea	20,864	Departures by sea.....	9,990
Total.....	33,686	Total.....	15,410

The gain to the population during this half-year amounted to 18,276 souls, by the excess of 7,402 births over deaths, and of 10,874 arrivals over departures.

HALF-YEAR ending 31st December, 1879.

Births.....	14,111	Deaths	4,780
Arrivals by sea	23,637	Departures by sea.....	10,705
Total.....	37,748	Total.....	15,485

In this period we find an increase of 22,263 persons, the births being in excess of the deaths by 9,331, and the arrivals exceeding the departures by 12,932.

During

Marriages, births, and
deaths.

During the year 1879 there were 5,391 marriages celebrated in the Colony. The births numbered 26,933, and the deaths 10,200. As compared with the previous year we find that marriages were in excess by 74 ; births by 1,605, and deaths show a decrease of 563.

MARRIAGES.

Marriages.

Sydney.

Suburbs.

Country Districts.

The total number of marriages celebrated in the Colony during the year 1879 was 5,391, which gives a ratio of 7·57 per 1,000 of estimated population. This shows a decrease on the figures of the previous year, and also on the average of the previous nine years. Out of the total number of marriages registered it will be seen that 26·28 per cent. were celebrated in Sydney, 13·90 per cent. in the suburbs, and 59·82 per cent. in the country districts. The number of marriages celebrated in Sydney is 1,417, which gives a rate of 13·17 per 1,000 of estimated population. This is a little lower than the previous year, and 1·14 under the figures of the previous nine years average. Suburban marriages numbered 749, which gives a rate of 8·78 per 1,000 of population. Here we find an advance of 0·97 on the preceding year, and of 5·51 on the average of the previous nine years. In the Country Districts there were 3,225 marriages. The rate per 1,000 is 6·21, being a slight decrease on the rate for the previous year, and also on that for the previous nine years average.

From the above figures we see that there were 125 males and 1,463 females, in all 1,588 persons, who entered the married state under the age of 21 years. The percentage of minors to total number married is 14'74. The number of minors who were unable to sign their names is 102, consisting of 5 males and 97 females, being 6'42 per cent. of the total number of minors married. As compared with the figures of the previous year there is a decrease of 21 persons.

From

From the total number of persons married (10,782) there were 818 or 7·58 per cent. who failed to sign their names on the forms prescribed by law. The number of males was 370, and of females 448, being 45·23 and 54·77 per cent. respectively of those who formed this class of persons. The total percentage for the Colony is 0·50 lower than for the previous year. The proportion which those who were married, and unable to write, bear to the total number married in each of the following divisions is as follows:—Sydney, 6·42; Suburbs, 4·34; Country, 8·85. The city percentage is less by 0·74 than that of the previous year. The Suburbs show a decline of 0·25, and the Country Districts of 0·36.

BIRTHS.

During the year 1879 there were 26,933 births registered, comprising 13,840 males and 13,093 females; male births forming 51·39 per cent., and female births 48·61 per cent., the difference in favour of the former being 2·78 per cent. The disproportion between male and female births is 0·52 lower than the previous year. The ratio of births to every 1,000 of estimated population is 37·82, which shows an increase of 0·32 on the rate of the previous year, but 0·61 under the average of the previous nine years. The decennial table shows that the largest number of births are registered in the September and December quarters of the year. In the City the registered births for the year numbered 3,714, which gives a rate of 34·51 per 1,000 of population. These figures give an increase of 0·38 on the year preceding, and are lower than the average of the previous nine years by 1·51. The Suburban births for the year are shown to have been 4,147 in number, and the birth rate 48·66. This is 3·21 in excess of the previous year's rate, and is the highest recorded during the last ten years; it is also 5·74 higher than the average rate of the previous nine years. In the Country Districts we find the number of births for the year was 19,072, and the birth-rate 36·73, which is 0·16 lower than that of the previous year, and also 1·49 under the average of the previous nine years.

Illegitimates.

The number of births of children registered as born out of wedlock during the year 1879 is 1,215, which is an increase of 194 on the previous year. This gives a percentage of 4·51 to total number of births registered, and is 0·48 in excess of the percentage for the previous year. According to the latest reports to hand, the percentage of these births in Ireland was 2·7, in England, 4·7, and in Scotland 8·9. The illegitimate birth rate of the Colony per 1,000 of population is 1·70, as against 1·51 for the previous year. The percentage of illegitimate births to total births registered in each of the following divisions is as follows:—Sydney, 10·47; Suburbs, 2·82; Country Districts, 3·72.

DEATHS.

DEATHS.

The total number of deaths registered in the Colony during the year 1879 was 10,200, being 563 less than in the previous year. Deaths of males numbered 6,082, and of females 4,118, the percentage being 59·63 and 40·37 respectively; so that male deaths were 19·26 per cent. in excess of female. The death-rate for the Colony per 1,000 of population is 14·32, which is lower by 1·64 than that of the previous year, and 0·86 under the average of the previous nine years. The death rate of the year under consideration is lower than that of any year in the previous quinquennial period. The city death rate is shown to be 21·05, which Sydney. is 1·69 lower than that of the previous year, and also 2·00 lower than the average of the previous nine years. In the Suburbs the death rate is 19·33. Here again we find an improvement of 1·09 in favour of Suburbs. the year under report, as compared with the previous year, but an increase of 1·38 on the average of the previous nine years. The Country Districts show a death rate of 12·10, which is a decrease of 1·67 on the Country District. rate of the previous year, and 0·85 under the average of that of the previous nine years. This death rate is lower than that for any of the previous nine years.

INFANTILE MORTALITY.

From the total deaths of the year (10,200) we find that 4,369 or 42·83 per cent. were registered as those of children under five years of age. This percentage is lower than the figures for the previous year by 2·54 per cent., and is also slightly under the average percentage of the previous nine years. In the City these deaths formed 39·67 per cent. of the total deaths. These figures are lower than for any one Sydney. year in the decade, and are also 4·20 under the average of the previous nine years. It will be seen that the rate of infantile mortality is lower in Sydney than in the Suburbs or Country Districts. This is to be accounted for by the fact that about one-fifth of the deaths in Sydney occurred in Hospitals and Asylums and were for the most part the deaths of adults. The infantile mortality of the Suburbs forms 54·73 per cent. of the total deaths (1,648). This rate is lower by 0·99 than that of the previous year, but a little in excess of the average of the previous nine years. The Country Districts show an infantile mortality of 40·85 per cent. to total deaths. This percentage is 2·47 under that of the preceding year, but 0·78 higher than the average of the previous nine years.

* Waterloo was not created a separate Registry District till January, 1872; Randwick a Sub-district of Paddington in September, 1872; and Waverley, Sub-district of Paddington, 1st August, 1876; Woollahra a Sub-district of Paddington, 1st August, 1878; Manly a Sub-district of St Leonards, 1st July.

The following table gives the percentages of the various diseases which have proved fatal during the year 1879 and nine previous years. As far as the year under review is concerned, we find 20·63 per cent. of deaths under the head of Zymotic Diseases, the greater part of which include Scarlatina, Measles, Diphtheria, Dysentery, Fevers, &c. These diseases are 5 per cent. lower than the figures of the previous year, and 1·07 per cent. lower than the previous nine years average.

Deaths from Constitutional Diseases, consisting of Gout, Dropsy, Cancer, Scrofula, Phthisis, &c., show a percentage of 13·37 to total deaths. Here we see an increase of 1·57 in the percentage of the previous year, and also of 0·93 on the average of the previous nine years.

Local Diseases form 39·81 per cent. of total deaths. Under this head are Apoplexy, Paralysis, Insanity, Convulsions, Aneurism, Pneumonia, Asthma, Pleurisy, Gastritis, Peritonitis, &c. These diseases are 2·44 per cent. in excess of those for the previous year, and 1·39 per cent. higher than the average of the previous nine years.

Developmental Diseases, comprising Cyanosis, Teething, Childbirth, Old Age, Atrophy, &c., show that the percentage of deaths from these causes amounted to 17·67 of total deaths. These figures are about the same as for the previous year, and also for the average of the nine years preceding.

Deaths from Violence form 8·03 per cent. of total deaths.
